Our Heritage is our Future

“Remember those who led you, who spoke the word of God to you; and considering the result of their conduct, imitate their faith.” (Hebrews 13:7)

As a church family, we have forebears. They were not perfect and neither are we. Still, we are grateful for those who passed their faith down to us. Our gratitude motivates us to pass our faith to our children because, as a church family, we have a future.

The charge to remember our forebears is not a call to live in the past. Rather, it is to preserve our identity as a family of faith going forward. We are called to carry our Christian heritage from the past, in the present, and toward the future as a torch that lights our way. Generations come and go but Jesus' church endures to the end. We lose something precious when we forget our forebears. It's called gratitude and it serves to strengthen our footing for the future. Having received faith from our forebears (who received it from theirs), we practice it today, and pass it on to tomorrow.

The passage quoted above from Hebrews 13:7 is cut too short. The next verse points to our firm foundation as time marches on. It says, “Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever.” (Hebrews 13:8).
